

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS OFFERED THROUGH KETTERING UNIVERSITY ONLINE

Kettering University has been offering graduate programs through distance education since 1982. Today, those distance courses have transitioned to Online delivery using platforms and formats in keeping with industry best practices. Each program is designed to prepare future leaders for a global workplace with 'first-class education that reflects the real world.' Many students are able to complete a program in less than two years since most programs only require ten classes for completion (prerequisites and other criteria may apply to some programs). Our graduate programs leverage nationally-ranked faculty who are recognized for their commitment to the practical application of learning to the real-world. Kettering University has long been admired by educational peers and businesses as a leader in developing top engineers and corporate managers, in short, individuals who change the world.
